at a better time. We have had a lot of wrangling; now it is time for a showdown.

That there is to be a spirited controversy before the question whether the railway unions not yet committed to join the "Big Five" brotherhoods in a walkout, is determined seemed evident last night.

"Blacksmiths Can Fight."

"I have been an advocate of peace as long as it seemed such an attitude was getting us anywhere," said J. W. Kline, president of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, Drop Forgers and Helpers. "But when it is a question of sink or swim, I swim. If putting up a fight is the only alternative to being eliminated as an organization, then we are girded for a fight. And blacksmiths, you know, can fight."

J. C. Smock, vice president of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Shop Laborers, said: "The officers of our union are sane, conservative leaders who have the situation under control. You may rest assured whatever decision is made will be right, and will be made at the right time."

G. H. Platten, grand vice president of the same organization, said the maintenance of way men dominate the present transportation situation.

"If we walk out," he said, "the watering, coaling, and firing of all trains stops, as well as track work. With the other organizations, or alone, we could cripple transportation. Our leaders will do the right thing, whether this be to join the brotherhoods, act independently, or remain on the job."

Jewell Hopes to Avert Strike.

B. M. Jewell, president of the Railway Employees department of the American Federation of Labor, expressed hope that a strike could be averted.

"We are going to keep our skirts clean," said C. J. Lohrman, president of the American Train Dispatchers' association. "We look to the law to settle any controversy."

Ready for 'Eventualities.'

Following the lead taken by Chicago, New York and other metropolitan cities reported mobilization of motor transport fleets which are relied upon to keep fuel and food supplies moving. And commercial organizations outlined plans for weathering any development with a minimum of hardship.

From brotherhood headquarters in Cleveland came announcement naming the roads that have been assigned to group 2 and group 3 of the progressive strike. Workers in the second group, according to the plan, are to be called out at 6 o'clock on the morning of Nov. 1, forty-eight hours after the first walkout. The railways in the third and fourth groups will be affected at intervals of forty hours thereafter.

The New York Central lines, east and west, are in group 3. The only information as to the fourth and last group places the entire Pennsylvania system in this class. It has been predicted the Pennsylvania, because of its disputes with organized labor, would be the first line hit.

Roads in Group 2.

The following are the thirteen roads which have been assigned to group 2: New York, New Haven and Hartford; Delaware and Hudson; Chicago and Eastern Illinois; St. Louis and San Francisco (entire system); Louisville and Nashville; Nickel Plate; Erie, Atchafalaya, Toledo, and Santa Fe (entire system); Atlantic Coast Line; Buffalo, Rochester, and Pittsburgh; Delaware, Lackawanna, and Western; Lehigh Valley; Nashville, Chattanooga, and St. Louis.

Group three: Minneapolis and St. Louis; Burlington system, Chesapeake and Ohio; New York Central lines, Boston and Albany; Baltimore and Ohio; Western Pacific; Denver and Rio Grande; Chicago and Alton; Illinois Central; Yazoo and Mississippi Valley; Soo line; Great Northern; Lake Erie and Western; and Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis (Big Four).

Charge Violation of Law.

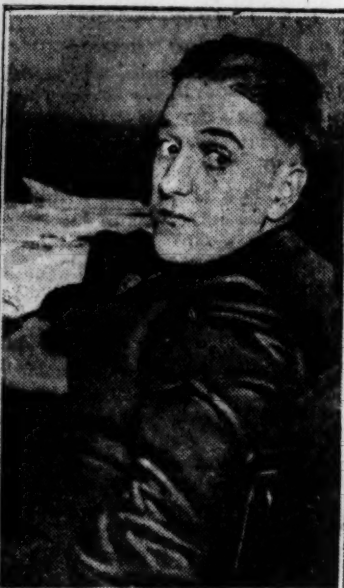

Following a meeting of presidents of railways having Chicago terminals, Samuel M. Felton, head of the Chicago Great Western, chairman of the meeting, issued a statement charging any strike would be in violation of the law which requires the railways and their employees to submit to the railroad labor board disputes which may interrupt transportation.

The statement also dealt with the suggestion of members of the public group of the labor board who are now in Washington, that the railways make a reduction in rates equal to the 12 per cent wage decrease of July 1, and postpone demands for further wage reductions.

"A general reduction of rates, without a further reduction of wages, would be ruinous to many railways," read the statement. "Thus far in the year 1921 the railways have earned a net return of only 2.5 per cent, and although the net earnings have increased recently, owing largely to the recent reduction of rates, a general reduction of rates without further reduction in wages would put the railways back in a very precarious position financially."

Reports that the Erie railway had given arbitrary effect to a wage reduction yesterday proved unfounded. The report was that the Erie had reduced the pay of maintenance of way employees on certain divisions from 27 cents an hour to 30 cents. Officials denied any wage reduction notice had been posted.

HARDING DRAWS UP MEASURES TO AVERT CALAMITY

Rail Strike to Be Topic in Cabinet Today.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—After a day of government conferences President Harding tonight is considering a series of recommendations of action in the railroad strike crisis, which are reported to include a reduction of freight rates to offset the wage reductions against which the rail unions are protesting.

That there will be an immediate lowering of transportation rates, whether the strike goes into effect or is called off, is the conviction of many government officials in touch with the situation. It is for such a reduction of the cost of transportation that the President has been working for months, in the belief that it would go far toward reviving business.

The recommendations made to the President by the chairman of the interstate commerce commission and the railway labor board will be discussed at the cabinet meeting tomorrow, after which it is expected the President will be ready to announce his attitude on the strike.

Experts Meet All Day.

The members of the railway labor board representing the public were closed with the members of the interstate commerce commission all the afternoon, in a discussion of the relation of wage reductions and transportation rate decreases.

At the close of the conference Chairman Barton, labor board, and Chairman McChord, commerce commission, went to the White House. They spent more than an hour with the President, for whose benefit they reviewed the history of the wage reduction case and presented recommendations for the solution of the problem.

"Anything bearing on the strike situation must come from the President," Mr. McChord said to newspaper men as he emerged with Mr. Barton. "We discussed every phase of the situation and got better acquainted, and we hope that something helpful will result. There will be no further meetings with the public group of the labor board at this time."

Arrive in Chicago Today.

Chairman Barton said he and his colleagues probably would leave for Chicago tonight.

The public members of the labor board also conferred with Attorney General Daugherty, who immediately thereafter went to the White House. Mr. Harding also summoned Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Secretary of War Weeks to advise him on the question of policy. Both cabinet members are reported to have urged strong support of the labor board against whose decision reducing wages the rail unions voted to protest by the strike. They viewed the attack of the unions on the board's decision as precipitating a test of the machinery provided by the government to prevent strikes.

Senator Cummins, Iowa, chairman of the senate committee on interstate commerce, and one of the authors of the transportation act, discussed the situation with the public members of the labor board and later with Alfred P. Thom, chairman of the Association of Railroad Executives.

Has Hopes for Solution.

"I am more firmly of the opinion than ever that means will be found to avert the threatened strike," said Senator Cummins tonight.

"By reduction of freight rates?" he was asked.

"Reduction of rates is now inevitable," the senator replied, "and I believe that the reduction will come speedily."

Postmaster General Hays and Second Assistant Postmaster General Shagnessy began a survey of the available trucks, automobiles, and airplanes to supplement railway service in the event of the strike crippling the carriage of the mails.

"I am sure the parties to the controversy will not permit developments which will interfere with government service," Mr. Hays said. "This is no time for statements from this department. The mails will be moved."

Joseph H. Deffries of Chicago, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, issued a cautioning of the brotherhoods for striking against a decision of the labor board, urged the administration to act to make such tactics a failure, and called on the public to uphold the authorities if they take that course.

AIRPLANE, BOAT TO FEED CITIES IF STRIKE COMES

Fuel Problem Most Serious Faced by Country.

Plans were w under way yesterday for pressing boats, auto trucks, and airplanes into service to fortify all of the large centers against food and fuel shortages in event of a railroad strike. Assurances were given that even should every train be stopped none of the larger cities will feel the pinch of hunger for weeks. The fuel outlook is not so optimistic, and the situation will depend entirely on how much coal can be moved into the distributing centers within the next two weeks.

New York is ready with a fleet of 57,000 motor trucks to move foodstuffs. An automobile club in Cleveland is mobilizing a fleet of 10,000 to be placed at the disposal of Mayor Fitzgerald there. Chicago is prepared to mobilize twice that number if necessary.

Manufacturers' associations in eleven states were advised yesterday by the national conference of state manufacturers' associations, meeting here, to form temporary organizations at once to store supplies, enlist the cooperation of public officials, and "sustain the railroads in the proposed reduction of wages."

Boats on Lakes and Coast.

Boats will be employed wherever possible to keep supplies moving to cities on the Atlantic seaboard and to great lakes ports. Navigation on the great lakes does not close until Nov. 30. Vessel owners are empowered to extend this period to Dec. 12 if the traffic warrants, but no insurance is available after that date. Lake boats can be employed to keep the grain moving and distribute coal from Lake Erie points, provided the fuel can be transported to those ports by rail or auto trucks.

Trans-oceanic traffic will be seriously crippled by the inability of railroads to deliver export freight, but plans are already formulated for increasing coastwise shipping. Although no demand has yet been made upon either the United States shipping board or the United States coast guard emergency fleet corporation, A. J. Frey, vice president of the latter, announced twenty-five oil burning ships can be turned over by the government daily for a period of ten days. No trouble, he said, would be found in obtaining crews to man them.

Engineers to Vote on Strike.

Other dispatches from the east, however, stated that 1,000 marine engineers who run several hundred boats and lighters at New York will vote before the end of the month as to whether they will join the trainmen in a general strike.

An airplane manufacturing concern in Cleveland has offered to supply that city with enough machines to assure a continuous food supply, but most of the planes probably will be used in transporting the mails. The aviation committee of the American Legion executive committee sent a telegram to Postmaster General Hays from Kansas City offering the services of the entire membership of the Flying club of that city in recruiting pilots for the air mail service. Hundreds of aviators will be in Kansas City for the American Legion national aerial derby to be held in connection with the national convention of the Legion there on Oct. 21 and Nov. 1 and 2.

Chicago is probably better fortified against a food shortage than any other large city. According to Edward Morris, president of Morris & Co., there is a two weeks' meat supply on hand. The cutting off of cattle receipts, however, would throw hundreds of workers in the stockyards temporarily out of work.

Export trade in the grain business will be demoralized, according to Joseph P. Griffin, president of the Board of Trade, but enough grain can be shipped into Chicago by boat to see the city through a strike of not too prolonged a period.

There is enough food in storage in New York, according to Health Commissioner Copeland, to ration that city through a three weeks' rail tieup.

Farmers Little Concerned.

The farmers throughout the middle west are not greatly concerned over the threatened tieup, according to J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau, as they have moved most of their cattle and in view of the present low price of corn would just as soon feed it to their hogs as ship it. Manufacturers and distributors of merchandise, though unwilling to believe a strike actually will occur, are preparing to move their goods as rapidly as possible. Department store heads are more concerned over the possibility of a walkout on the part of the buying public than the actual tieup of shipping.

ERIE PRESIDENT WANTS A STRIKE; 'TIME AND PLACE'

Would Be Against "U. S. Umpire," He Says.

New York, Oct. 17.—F. D. Underwood, president of the Erie railroad, tonight expressed the hope that the strike would actually occur. "This is the time and the place for it," he declared, saying the strike was one against the "umpire" or the United States railroad labor board.

"It should be understood," Mr. Underwood said, "that the present strike movement so prominently before the public, analyzed, amounts to this: It is different from any other strike in that it is not directed against the railways but against the verdict of a body constituted by congress, who, after a hearing, fixed wages, not at the instance of the interested parties, but founded on conditions developed by evidence."

U. S. Ownership Labor Goal.

"The real purpose is not appreciated by some of us. It is to bring about government control—the desire of all labor bodies, some part of the public, and some members of congress. Railroad labor has the idea that under government control they are better off; naturally they are for it. A leader of the railway conductors when asked why his men preferred government control said: 'Because the conditions are better and the discipline not so sharp.'"

"Safety Depends on Discipline."

"This is an interesting thing for the public—the users of the railroads whose money pays the railroad employees. Their safety depends largely upon the discipline, which is not a thing to be trifled with."

"We are back at the old junction; are a minority to starve and inconvenience their paymasters, the public, for the reason that a board of umpires, on which they (the men) were represented, fail to suit their views?"

"It is really a government affair, inasmuch as both rates and conditions were inaugurated by a tribunal entirely apart from the railroads."

Mr. Underwood said there need be no fear that the mails would not be carried.

PERSHING LAYS U. S. MEDAL ON BRITISH TOMB

Highest Honor Is Paid to
"Unknown Warrior"

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, Oct. 17.—America, in the person of Gen. John J. Pershing, commander of its armies, paid the highest honor in its power to Great Britain's best of dead in the great war today. The general laid the congressional medal on the grave of the "unknown warrior" in Westminster abbey, the most sacred shrine in British history. There this unknown soldier lies among long dead kings, queens, and statesmen, and today's grave is the center of a greater interest than any of those containing the bones of the known.

The weather for the ceremony was ideal. The day opened with a slight mist, which soon gave way to brilliant sunshine. Gen. Pershing drove through the streets of London in the royal carriage with the Duke of Connaught, the king's uncle, through crowds of cheering Britons.

Yanks Outdo King's Guards.
Drawn up in front of the Abbey the distinguished group found Gen. Pershing's soldiers from the Rhine—500 tall straight doughboys, the pick of the American army, and every one who saw them instinctively contrasted them with the famous British grenadiers—the king's guards, drawn up in a line facing them. The guards were heavier and older, but in soldierly smartness these most famous soldiers of Europe were distinctly behind Gen. Pershing's soldiers from the Rhine. I think that the smile on the general's face as he walked along the line with the duke inspecting the guard indicated that he realized this.

Gen. Pershing and the duke were received by many high British officials, including the first lord of the admiralty and the secretaries for war and of the air. Inside every available seat was taken and outside thousands strained for a glimpse of the American commander.

The space around the unknown's grave was railed off, and many famous Britons were seated in the inclosure. Prime Minister David Lloyd George was there, as were the archbishops of Canterbury and York and many other high ecclesiastics. Field Marshal Haig, Gen. Allenby, other generals, and a small group of naval officers were also there.

Gen. Pershing Arrives.
The first intimation those on the inside had of the arrival of the general was when the clear voices of the choir boys at the other end of the great abbey were heard singing "The Sun Shines Brightly." Then the procession came slowly down the aisle between lines of doughboys on one side and detachments of all the guards on the other, with sailors of both countries at one end.

First came the cross bearer, magnificently robed, then the dean and the choir boys, their red robes making a wonderful splash of color against the gray walls of the abbey. Gen. Pershing walked with Ambassador Harvey and followed by their staffs, and Rear Admirals Niblack and Twining with their staffs.

Received by Duke.
Gen. Pershing was formally received at the grave by the Duke of Connaught, who had entertained him informally. Ambassador Harvey made the main speech of presentation.

"The congressional medal corresponds to the 'Victoria' cross and can be awarded only to an American warrior who achieved distinction at the risk of life above and beyond the call of duty," Ambassador Harvey said. "A special act of congress was required to permit the placing of it upon the tomb of a British soldier."

"The significance of this presentation therefore is twofold. It comprises, in addition to the highest military tribute, a message of fraternity direct from the American people through their chosen representatives in congress to the people of the British empire."

"The incentives of the American and British soldiers who fought side by side were identical. They were patriot warriors, sworn to the defense and preservation of the countries which they loved beyond their own lives. Each realized that the downfall of his own free land would preclude the destruction of all liberty. Both were conscious of the blessings that had flowed from the English Magna Charta and the American Constitution. Well they knew that the obliteration of either would involve the extinguishment of the other."

Gen. Pershing made a short, soldierly speech in a clear, ringing voice, which was heard all over the great church. The general stepped forward and reverently laid the medal on the grave and stood with silent bowed head for a few minutes.

Dean Ryle of Westminster abbey followed with a speech of acceptance. Prime Minister Lloyd George also made a speech accepting the medal.

"It is my special privilege on behalf

KING THANKS U. S.; OFFERS MEDAL FOR OUR UNKNOWN HERO

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, Oct. 17.—King George sent the following message to President Harding today:

"I wish to express to you and to congress and the people of the United States the warm appreciation felt throughout this country at the tribute which you are paying today to our unknown warrior. The gift of your medal of honor to the British comrade Abbey stands for all our best endeavor and hardest sacrifice in war, is a gesture of friendly sympathy and good will which we will not forget."

"On Armistice day representatives of the British empire in Washington will join you in the ceremony to be held to honor the splendid record of your own troops. I greatly wish that on that occasion to confer upon your unknown warrior our highest decoration for valor—the Victoria cross. It has never yet been bestowed upon the subject of another state, and I trust that you and the American people will accept the gift in order that the British empire may thus fitly pay its tribute to the tomb which symbolizes every deed of conscious valor performed by the men of your great fighting forces, whether by land or sea, upon the western front."

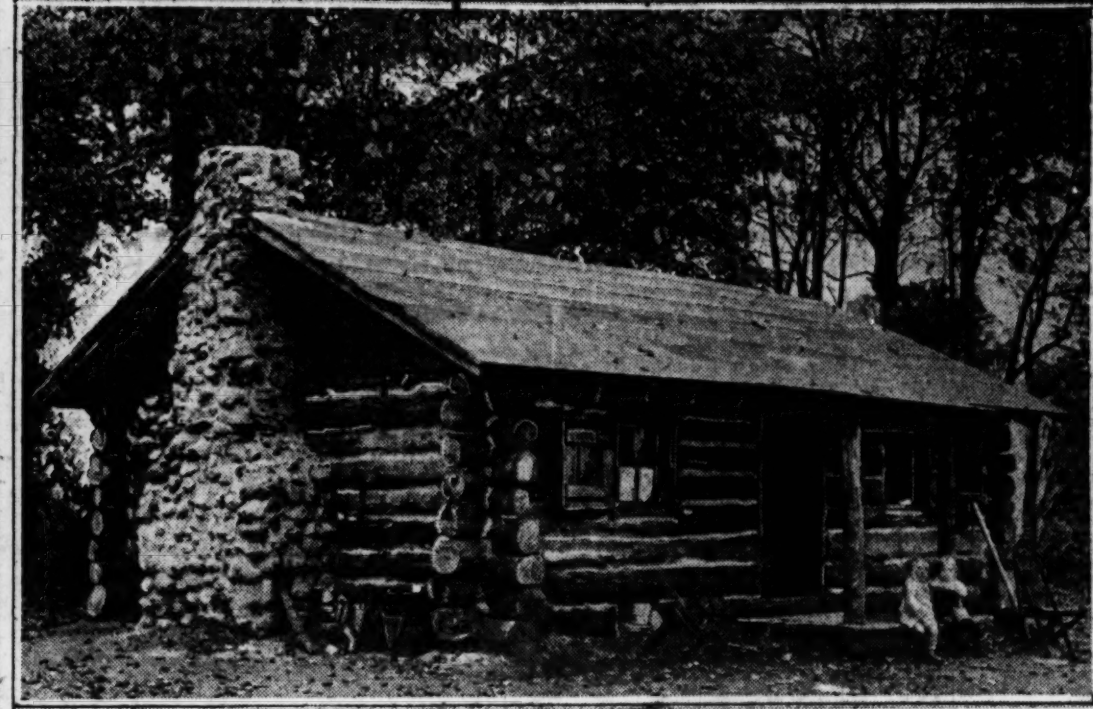

"I also send my heartfelt good wishes to the great international conference which opens by your initiative upon that day. My ministers will, I know, strive as wholeheartedly as possible to make the congress a sterling success. May they, in common with yours, do all that practical statesmanship can achieve to perpetuate the comradeship of war in the maintenance of peace."

of the government and of the people of this country to express their profound gratitude to the President and to the congress of the United States for the gift of this striking act of homage to our valiant dead," he said. "This empire to its remotest corners will not miss the deep significance of this deed and of this day. We feel we are taking part in no idle pageant. The warrior who rests in this sacred tomb is but the representative of nearly 1,000,000 British dead."

"The cause for which they fell America espoused in a critical hour and helped to carry to victory, so that the homage laid today on this grave will remain an emblem of common sacrifice for a common purpose. It will be a reminder not only to this generation but for all generations to come that the fundamental aims of these two democracies are the same, and will be interpreted as a solemn pledge given to the valiant dead that these two mighty peoples who were comrades in the great war have resolved to remain comrades to guarantee a great peace."

At the conclusion of the speeches and the prayers recited by the dean, the whole congregation, led by the band of the Scots guards, joined in singing the Battle Hymn of the Republic.

In the evening Gen. Pershing was the guest of the government at a banquet at the Carlton hotel. At this banquet it was announced by Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, secretary of war, that the British government had decided to confer the Victoria cross on America's "unknown soldier," who will be buried in Arlington at Washington on Armistice day.

PARLIAMENT TO ACT ON BRITISH JOBLESS CRISIS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, Oct. 17.—The British cabinet met tonight to put the finishing touches on the plans for the meeting of parliament tomorrow, to select the delegates for the Washington conference, and to approve Prime Minister Lloyd George's speech in the house of commons Wednesday.

Mr. Lloyd George will discuss measures to be introduced to alleviate unemployment. It was stated that final approval was given at the cabinet meeting to the proposals for a wide extension of the export credit scheme and it is expected that Mr. Lloyd George's speech will be largely along lines calling for the stimulation of trade as a solution for unemployment.

The names of the delegates will not be announced until parliament meets, but it is practically certain that they will be led by Arthur J. Balfour, whether the prime minister goes or not. Lord Lee of Farnham, the first lord of the admiralty, is a certainty.

WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 17.

Chairman Barton of the railway labor board and McChord of the Interstate commerce commission laid before President Harding recommendations for dealing with the strike crisis, said to include a reduction of freight rates, and Mr. Harding took the suggestions under advisement pending action of the administration policy at the cabinet meeting tomorrow.

All attempts to amend the German peace treaty were overwhelmingly defeated in the senate, indicating its ratification in its present form.

The Netherlands government accepted the invitation of the United States to participate in discussion of Pacific and far eastern problems at the Washington conference next month. A second meeting of the American delegation has been called for next Friday.

Further evidence of the unsatisfactory training of world war veterans in "mushroom" schools and their exploitation at government expense was made public today by Col. Forbes, director of the veterans' bureau.

The house ways and means committee will meet tomorrow to take action on the administration foreign loan re-funding bill. The measure probably will be taken up in the house on Thursday.

CHICAGO RENTERS FIND A FRIEND; HE IS JUDGE BARASA

Children Are First in His Court.

"It's the children that suffer the most when their parents are unable to find a flat. They can't live 'just anywhere.'"

"I'm out to protect the children," declared Judge Bernard P. Barasa yesterday in the Renters' court. "You landlords will have to allow your tenants who have little ones to stay in your buildings until they can find quarters elsewhere. It would seem that children are a curse, rather than a blessing, nowadays."

Judge Barasa has become the tenants' Solomon. His decisions are declared judicial "bullseyes." Last week he handed 200 cases daily.

Among the many exasperated of speedy justice in pressing instances is the case of John Gieritz, who lives in the rear flat at 2521 Greenview avenue.

Family Turned Into Street.
Gieritz was moved out of his home yesterday. His four children were turned into the street with the furniture, while the father was mending shoes for the little ones. Seventeen bailiffs made quick work of emptying the flat. Gieritz appeared in time to see his stove moving down the stairs. He dashed for a car to take him to see Judge Barasa.

The judge immediately called up Mrs. M. Stiglich, the landlord's wife. "John Gieritz is in my chambers. He was moved out of his flat contrary to my orders. He has paid his rent and arrears there. See that he is permitted to move back in."

Mrs. Stiglich didn't relish the idea. She "talked back."

"You be in court Tuesday when this case comes up if you give me any more insulting talk you'll go to jail," was the judge's response. Turning to Gieritz, Judge Barasa said:

"Put in a bill for damages against the landlord for the expense of moving those goods back in and for any damage which resulted in their removal or exposure."

Quicker From Cabin.
William Tizreal and his family of six children will have to move. This was the mandate of the board of county commissioners yesterday, which gave him ten days to pack his kitchen utensils, baby carriage, canary, and children, and vacate the little log cabin built for the Boy Scouts in the forest preserve near Riverside.

Tizreal and his family are about the last of the tent colony who have spent the summer months in the forest preserve and laughed at the rent collector. With the first nip of winter Tizreal struck his tent and carted his possessions to the snug little cabin. The warmth and comfort brought joy to his heart. He was happy until about two weeks ago, when District Forester Michael J. Breen and Carcater Bert Waters discovered the place he had selected to hibernate. They reported to the board.

"I am a poor man with many mouths to feed," Tizreal said. "I can't afford $50 a month rent and feed and clothe my family. I could live in a tent all winter, but my family would freeze. That is why I moved into the cabin."

SENATE BERLIN TREATY VOTE IS SET FOR TONIGHT

Lodge to Hold Session to Get Action.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]
Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—(Special.)—Attempts to amend the German peace treaty were overwhelmingly defeated in the senate today, indicating ratification with the text just as it was sent back from Berlin.

An amendment by Senator Reed of Missouri, Democratic "Irreconcilable," specifically declaring the United States assumed no obligation under any part of the Versailles treaty was rejected, 66 to 3.

Earlier in the day two amendments offered by Senator Walsh of Montana, Democrat, and a league of nations advocate, designed to protect the territorial integrity of Germany against unwarranted invasion, were defeated.

Senate Limits Debate.

The senate began operating today under an agreement curtailing debate, and leaders sidetracked all legislation to give the treaties the right of way. Senators are now limited to one hour speeches on the treaty and ten minute speeches on amendments or reservations. At the conclusion of today's session Senator Reed introduced several new amendments, which probably will consume some time tomorrow.

When all amendments are out of the way reservations will be in order. Senator Lodge, Republican leader, announced he would hold the senate in session late tomorrow night in an effort to bring the pact to a vote.

It may not be possible to complete ratification tomorrow, but leaders are aiming to bring all three treaties to a vote before Wednesday night at the latest.

Cells Treaties Entangling.
Senator Reed, in offering his amendment today, contended that the pending treaties deeply entangle the United States in European affairs. He characterized them as "miserable makeshifts which put us into the league of nations through the back door."

He said in the pending treaties certain sections of the Versailles treaty were specially named as having no binding effect upon the United States. By inference, he argued, therefore the United States did assume obligations under the other sections of the Versailles treaty.

The first amendment offered by Senator Walsh pledged the United States to join with other signatories of the Versailles treaty in any steps that might be mutually decided on to protect Germany against unjustified invasion as long as it fulfilled its treaty obligations.

This was rejected, 71 to 7. Senators Walsh, Hitchcock, King, Simmons, Overman, Qlbas, and Culberson supporting it.

TRIBUNE VERDICT CALLED VICTORY FOR THE PEOPLE

London Paper Praises
Fisher Decision.

BY PEABODY SWIFT

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright, 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]
LONDON, Oct. 17.—Under the title "The Sacred Office Holder," the London Daily Telegraph will publish the following editorial tomorrow on the libel suit brought against The Chicago Tribune by the Thompson administration of Chicago:

"We congratulate our able and spirited American contemporary, The Chicago Tribune, on its notable victory. It has emerged triumphantly in a libel action in which the damages were laid at $10,000,000, or say $2,000,000.

"Anybody who is connected with the conduct of a first-class daily newspaper must be quite insured to the process of being 'shot at' by persons who think or fancy that they may be able to persuade the courts to think that they have been libeled in its pages. But a $2,000,000 libel suit must surely be a record. In this case it was not the character or credit of any individual that was questioned but that of a municipality, to wit: the municipality of Chicago.

"Their Gun Missed Fire."

"When its mayor brought action to vindicate himself and his colleagues from what they deemed unfair aspersions they assessed damages of an unprecedented sum. They wanted to teach the licensee of an unbridled press a lesson. Unfortunately for these public spirited citizens the lesson did not come off: the $2,000,000 stick broke in their hands; their heavy gun missed fire; for the Circuit court has decided in favor of the newspaper.

"THE TRIBUNE published a series of articles in which it unfavorably criticized the financial administration of the municipality. The mayor was annoyed and ordered suit.

"THE TRIBUNE entered a demurrer, which the judge sustained, holding there was no cause for action. The plaintiff's plea, he said, was 'not in harmony with the genius, spirit, and objects of our institutions.' The press, his honor went on to observe, is the eyes and ears of this world and the spokesman for the weak and suffering.

Interpreted Spirit of U. S.

"So many unkind things have been said about newspapers from the bench that it is really gratifying to record this judicial testimony from the middle west. We feel sure, at any rate, that the judge correctly interpreted the genius and spirit of American institutions.

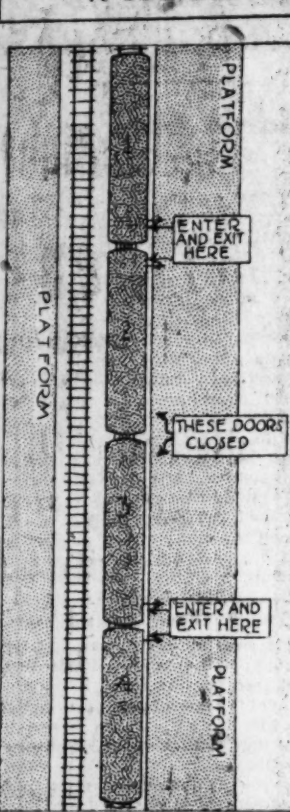

"No public body can really be injured by attacks which are merely malignant and mendacious; no reputable newspaper can make itself without impairing its own authority and influence. The fierce light that beats upon an officeholder in a democracy cannot do him harm if his own character is above reproach."

She Awoke Just in Time to Miss Mortician, Wife Says

Mrs. Catherine Roberts, 3218 Seminary avenue, awoke just as her husband, Adam, was calling the undertaker to dispose of her body. She told in the Court of Domestic Relations how Adam, before going out with one of his other wives, fed her a powder that made her sleep from 5 o'clock one evening to 6 the following evening. Police are investigating.

RAILWAY SURGEONS MEET.
The semi-annual meeting of chief surgeons of the railways of the United States was held yesterday at Hotel Sherman.

WATCH THE CAR DOORS!

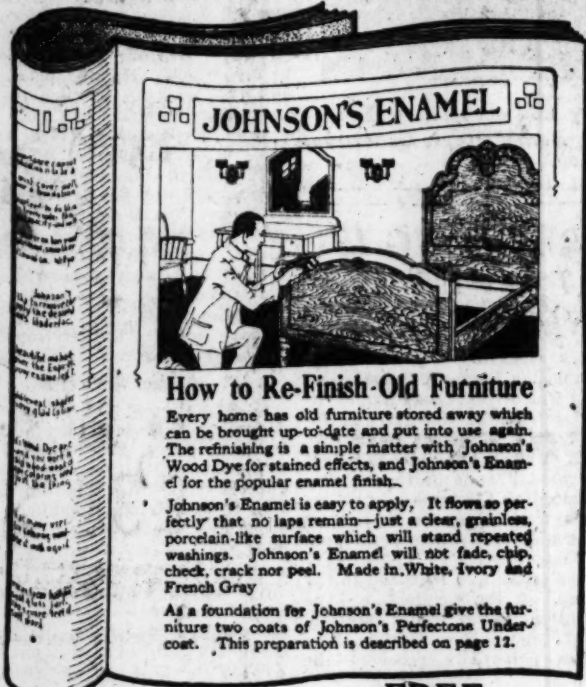

Passengers on the Evanston-Jackson park branch of the Northwestern elevated will discover this morning that they can't enter the doors of their train as in the past. Under a new plan being tried out by the company only the rear door of the first and third cars and the front doors of the second and fourth will be opened. The effect will be the same as if two two-car trains will be hitched together. The benefits of the new plan are the elimination of the guard between the second and third cars, and as the doors between these cars will not be opened, elimination of cold air during the winter months. The plan is for use between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. and 6:30 p. m. and 7 a. m., the nonrush hours.

One Day's Cost of War to Save 5,000,000 Russians

(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.)
[Copyright, 1921.]

RIGA, Oct. 17.—"Fifty million dollars would save Russia from the effects of the famine," said Col. Haakell today on his return from an inspection trip through the famine area. "This sum—just about what the war cost the allies one day—would save upwards of 5,000,000 lives that otherwise seem doomed to extinction."

How to Re-Finish Old Furniture

Every home has old furniture stored away which can be brought up-to-date and put into use again. The refinishing is a simple matter with Johnson's Wood Dye for stained effects, and Johnson's Enamel for the popular enamel finish.

Johnson's Enamel is easy to apply. It flows so perfectly that no laps remain—just a clear, grain-like surface which will stand repeated washings. Johnson's Enamel will not fade, chip, crack nor peel. Made in White, Ivory and French Gray.

As a foundation for Johnson's Enamel give the furniture two coats of Johnson's Perfectone Undercoat. This preparation is described on page 12.

JUDGE PROTESTS ARREST OF "VET," NOW A PEDDLER

"It is the duty of every American to help our soldiers, instead of making life miserable for them!" exclaimed Judge William R. Foster in the Sheffield avenue court yesterday when he discharged William A. Haynes, ex-serviceman, who has a thirty-six inch gash in his leg and a paralyzed left hand.

Haynes was arrested Saturday by Policeman John Rose of the Town Hall station for selling needles at Wilson avenue and Broadway. Thomas F. Dilabaugh, 4609 North Ashland avenue, another former soldier, took the patrolman's number to complain to the American Legion, and also was arrested. Dilabaugh, Haynes, and Charles Meadows, 1805 West Adams street, who supplied the crippled veteran with his sales equipment, were released.

MRS. ROSS DENIES "ANOTHER MAN" TALE OF HUSBAND

Mrs. Frances Ross, whose throat was cut by her husband, Alexander Stuart Ross, in his room at the Congress hotel Sunday evening, remained consciousness at St. Luke's hospital yesterday long enough to give a statement to the police.

"There wasn't any quarrel," she gasped. "There wasn't any check—there wasn't any other man. My husband hasn't had any money since January. He did send me roses at my hotel Sunday and ask me to visit him. I did. He was nervous—he had been drinking. I tried to soothe him. 'I was lying on the bed. He walked into the bathroom, telling me to keep my eyes closed. Then when he came out he slashed my throat with his razor. He was drunk and crazy.'"

Commissioner Enright made a detailed explanation of his bank deposits, which was not shaken by examination by counsel for the committee.

The Dread Pyorrhea Begins With Bleeding Gums

Pyorrhea's infecting germs cause many ills. Medical science has proven this.

Diseased conditions, which not long ago doctors were unable to trace to a cause, are now known often to be the result of Pyorrhea germs that breed in pockets about the teeth. Rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders and other diseases have been traced in many cases to this Pyorrhea infection.

Don't let Pyorrhea work its wicked will on your body. Visit your dentist frequently for teeth and gum inspection. And watch your gums yourself. Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, begins with tender and bleeding gums; then the gums recede; the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of poisons generated at their base.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today.

Brush Your Teeth With Forhan's—How to Use It

Use it twice daily, year in and year out. Wet your brush in cold water, place a half-inch of the refreshing, healing paste on it, then brush your teeth up and down. Use a rolling motion to clean the crevices. Brush the grinding and back surfaces of the teeth. Massage your gums with your Forhan-coated brush—gently at first until the gums harden, then more vigorously. If the gums are very tender, massage with the finger, instead of the brush. If gum shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

The decision of J. Fisher, sustaining The Chicago Tribune's $10,000,000, brought a shout in the name of a defense of the right of the editorial. Some of the editorial decision follow:

MAYOR ASKED TO GIVE IDLE JOBS; HE 'PASSES BUCK'

Tells Union Chiefs Work Is Tied Up by Suit.

Twenty-seven business agents called on Mayor Thompson yesterday and asked for jobs for the thousands of building tradesmen who are out of work in Chicago.

The mayor called in the heads of three departments, having to do with construction work, and then told the assembled job seekers that the city has nothing to offer at present.

"The mayor and Mr. Faherty said that much of the city construction work is tied up by the injunction suit brought by Ald. Schwartz, Guernsey, and Woodhull and decided by Judge Swanson," said George Williams, representing the steamfitters and spokesmen for Thomas Kearney, president of the Building Trades council, who with Michael J. Boyle of Local 134, electrical workers, led the delegation.

Schwartz in Hot "Comeback." The attempt of the administration leaders to lay the blame on the city council for the lack of jobs brought a scorching retort from Ald. Schwartz last night.

The injunction suit mentioned was to decide whether the council should retain supervision of the spending of money after the passage of the appropriation bill and was especially directed at the payment of huge sums to "experts" without the council's consent. Judge Swanson upheld the aldermen's contention.

"No work was tied up by the injunction suit," Ald. Schwartz declared. "The suit was simply brought to make the mayor comply with a city ordinance which he had announced he would disregard."

Only One Job Involved. "The court decided that the administration must come to the council before it spends millions for expert fees. The only construction job involved was the Western avenue tunnel, and the council immediately gave full permission for work on that to go ahead, resulting in the employment of 300 men."

"And there would be money, plenty of it, to install electric lights, giving jobs to Boyle's men, and to complete the 12th street viaduct and other jobs. If the city's bonding power had not been eaten up by the $2,000,000 bond issue which the voters

MRS. HELEN HORNER.

She denies the charge of desertion made by her husband in a divorce bill filed last August, and filed a cross complaint yesterday charging him with abandoning her.

So far as Mrs. Helen Louise Horner is concerned, her husband, Walter Emerson Horner, former middleweight champion boxer of the 123d field artillery and color sergeant of the regiment, is absent without leave.

The former soldier began a divorce suit last August, charging his wife with desertion. In a cross bill filed yesterday Mrs. Horner denies deserting her husband, and charges him with abandoning her.

Her marriage was hasty, Mrs. Horner says. She was a stenographer in 1916, and the wedding took place during the noon hour. Then she returned to work and Horner joined his regiment and went to the Mexican border.

Later he went to France, and still later their daughter, Elizabeth, was born. After the war they lived together a short while and then separated after a quarrel. Finally, the wife declares, her husband employed two friends to try to secure evidence for a divorce against her. She had them arrested and they were placed under peace bonds.

had to vote in the spring of 1920 to cover the municipal deficit of 1919, a deficit caused by the administration's profligate spending."

The business agents, who represented unions affiliated with the Building Trades council, will probably carry their quest for jobs to the council finance committee.

Of the $1,200,000 bond issue voted for the 12th street viaduct all has been spent except $5,000, and the job is only half complete.

DELAY EXPECTED IN FIXING DATE FOR SMALL TRIAL

Preparing Record Found to Be Big Task.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Although both sides are "ready for trial" in the case against Gov. Small at Waukegan, the chances are there will be some delay. From the governor's camp yesterday came word that C. G. La Forge of Decatur "is detained at the bedside of a sick friend" and cannot undertake actual control of the governor's defense until later in the week.

From Springfield information came that preparation of the record in the case cannot be completed before Thursday or Friday. It was explained that each document presented to Judge Burton in connection with the change of venue motion must be copied and the copies forwarded to Lake county. Gov. Small presented 100 and State's Attorney Mortimer filed 1,002 affidavits.

Circuit Court Clerk Koehn in Springfield said the copying of these affidavits cannot be completed before Thursday. Attorneys believe legal certification of the record from Sangamon to Lake county will not be made before Monday.

Probable Procedure in Case. As outlined by a well informed authority, after the case is docketed formally in Lake county this will be the procedure:

It may be set for immediate trial at the present October term of court, with Judge Edwards sitting, either upon motion of the state or of the defense; upon an agreement between state and defense, or upon Judge Edwards' own action.

The next move is that Gov. Small, appearing in person, pleads guilty or not guilty to any or all counts of the indictments.

The next logical step, as established in criminal procedure, is a motion by the defense to quash any or all counts of the indictments. If the court sustains motions to quash the entire indictment, the case is ended then and there.

If the court's decision is that the indictment stands, the date of the trial is then set by the court.

Time Required for Trial. If the trial is on the embankment charge affecting only Gov. Small, each side will be entitled to 20 peremptory challenges. If it is on the indictment charging Gov. Small and Verne Curtis with embankment, each side will have 40 peremptory challenges. If the trial is upon the Small-Curtis conspiracy indictment, each side has 20 peremptory challenges.

After the jury is selected it is expected at least four weeks and possibly

ON BOARD SHIP, AT LAST, ON WAY TO ELLIS ISLAND

Smiles and Songs from Emigrants at Sailing.

The following is the sixth article of a series by Miss Genevieve Forbes, a member of The Tribune staff, who has just returned to America, passing through Ellis island as an Irish immigrant girl:

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

(Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune. All rights reserved; reproduction forbidden.) Lack of education, what excuses are made in thy academic name. The rejected immigrant, loath to admit disqualification on the score of morals, cleanliness, or health, prefers to blame all his troubles on inability to read and write. As a result, when we go to the inspector's office at Queenstown, we find an inconsistently large group of "illiterate illiterates." We all know the subterfuge, but we play the game, not so much through loyalty as through fear lest it may also be our game.

It is 3 o'clock the afternoon before sailing as we line up for medical examination in the basement of the steamship office at Queenstown. The men go to the left, to the doctor; the girls to the right, to the nurse. As we wait our turn the fifty or more women discuss the affair. It is amazing how easily we forget our conventional formulae and speak with frankness and feeling of "bugs."

The Last Ordeal on Shore.

Every now and then the door opens and girls come out, some smiling contentedly, others crying.

It is our turn. Eight of us go in.

"Take down your hair and remove your wals," comes the order from the nurse, a kindly woman who tries to reassure the line of trembling girls. Timidly we obey. One girl is examined, seven look on and listen to the verdict. And so on, until the eight have been inspected. One of the group has a "bad head"; she is ordered to have a special treatment with warm vinegar and lye. The rest of us are given a perfect score, with qualifications. "Buy a fine tooth comb and keep using it, in case—" advises the matron.

Tips—Still More Tips.

Our skin is carefully examined, likewise our underclothes. The vaccination coverings are torn off entirely. Just that morning a woman was discovered to have sucked the vaccine from the arms of five newly vaccinated girls. They have been revaccinated and warned.

The nurse takes us to the doctor and makes her report, which, in the majority of cases, he accepts. The girls tip her half a crown each. Out of their pathetically small resources they give the money because they have been told tipping insures leniency. In this case the nurse is not working for money, but we are soon to learn of a highly perfected system of shake-downs whereby subordinate officials drain funds from girls already poor.

It's a long way to Ellis island, so why begin to worry? These three immigrants from Czech-Slovakia have passed their preliminary examinations and are safe aboard the steamer that is to carry them to America. They were fellow steerage passengers of Miss Genevieve Forbes, who is describing for The Tribune the experience of immigrants in getting to and through Ellis island to the haven of America.

But this nurse has a grudge against Ellis island and tries to pass us, even the "foreigner" and five children with the purple hair, the result of a boot-polish shampoo, taken because, in the words of the little girl, "our hair was so fat."

"Let the Island Worry."

"I told them to wash their hair and let them pass," says the nurse. "let the island worry about them."

With detached frankness we journey to the barber shop, there to purchase combs and other equipment. The barber, a veritable Bluebeard, points to the four scalps hanging on his wall, saying: "Sure, that's a fine head of hair."

belongs to Julia Casey from Galway. And them lovely curls over there. Ain't it a shame?"

Poor Julia and Nellie and the others—their secret is theirs no longer, in spite of the tightly fitting caps they wear at the dock the next morning.

Statistically speaking, from our Queenstown group of 180 three men are rejected by the authorities, two leave because they fear Sinn Fein intervention, two girls are rejected, three have their hair bobbed, two have it shaved, and twenty-eight of the forty-seven girls are warned to have a shampoo before the sailing.

A sleepless night at an inexpensive hotel, seven in a room. On the dock by 7:30. At 10 the tender is ready for us. First and second class passengers aboard first. Steerage passengers must learn not to rush in where anybody else wants to go. By 10:30 they are ready for us. Four officials stand at the gangway.

"Drop your luggage, show your hands," they yell. The skin of our hands is scrutinized; our hair is examined; we stumble over our cheap suit cases, are bundled over a plank and we are on the tender.

A ride of an hour, another gang-plank, another wait for third class turn, this time under the constant gaze of field glasses playing upon us from the upper decks, with the regularity of a machine gun, and we are aboard the steamer which is to take us to America.

It's a long way to Ellis island, so we smile, sing Irish melodies and laugh at our first sight of the 300 "continental" who are our fellow-passengers.

Adventure, we decide, is just a series of commonplaces, but difficult ones. [Tomorrow—A Typical Day in the Steerage.]

MONEY MISSING: CASHIER SEIZED; 2 BANKS CLOSED

"Weak Links" in Illinois
"Chain" Snap.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 17.—Following the arrest early today at Davis Junction of L. N. Kopland, cashier of the Union State bank at Hanover, Ill., State Auditor Russell later closed that bank. He had closed the Bardolph State bank, one of the same chain of banks, last Monday.

The arrest of Kopland was made on Mr. Russell's order, on the charge of the embezzlement of $120,000. Fearing violence, Kopland was rushed to Galesburg and placed in the Jo Daviess county jail. The Union National bank of Macomb has been appointed receiver for the Bardolph bank and J. A. Speer, cashier of the Hanover State bank, has been named as receiver for the Union State bank at that place.

Arrest Follows Inquiry.
The action by the state auditor followed the examination and closing of the Bardolph State bank. At that time E. J. Woolver, cashier of that bank, made a statement. According to the state bank examiners, both Woolver and Kopland, the latter fleeing during an examination of his bank, had no money interest in the banks, but were put there as the agents of Jorgen Olsen of Minot, N. D., who runs a chain of banks in that state and had some banking connections at St. Paul, where, it is said, he has an office.

That man, it is said by the examiners, had sent farm paper from the northwest into the banks just closed and into banks at Colchester and Wehner, Ill., where, it is declared, local stockholders will make up the losses and the banks will remain open.

$200,000 Paper Bad?
It is said the bank examiners have found a total of about $200,000 in worthless or doubtful paper in the banks just closed and in the banks where the stockholders have agreed to make good the losses and continue the banks in operation.

Olsen is said to have banks in North Dakota, Minnesota, Indiana, and Michigan. He was developing into a financier in farm paper. His first success is said to have been in North Dakota, and with profits made there he branched out into Illinois and other states.

Johnson Bats for Landis.

DIAL BRINGS UP LANDIS' TWIN JOBS AGAIN IN SENATE

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Senator Dial of South Carolina today reopened his fight for the impeachment of Federal Judge K. M. Landis of Chicago.

He submitted to the senate a copy of the resolution adopted by the American Bar association condemning Judge Landis for acting as baseball arbitrator while holding office as a federal judge. The resolution was sent to the judiciary committee.

Senator Johnson of California and Senator Kenyon of Iowa promptly arose to Judge Landis' defense.

"I want to express the opinion that the indignation of the bar association arises, not from the baseball employment of Judge Landis, but because of Judge Landis' judicial acts," said Senator Johnson. "I venture the assertion that if Judge Landis' court had ever been a refuge for privilege its commendation by those lawyers who teach great corporations to skate on thin ice would have been certain and enthusiastic."

Senator Spencer of Missouri challenged Senator Johnson's statement. "I was present at the meeting when the resolution was adopted," Senator Spencer said. "I wish the senator from California might also have been there, because he has entirely mistaken both the motive and purpose which actuated the bar association. It had nothing to do with Judge Landis' judicial decisions nor his attitude upon the bench."

Lodge Halts Tribune Editorial.

Senator Kenyon undertook to read an editorial from THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE to show, he said, that "there were two sides to the controversy over Judge Landis." Senator Lodge, Republican leader, objected to the reading of the editorial because, he said, it had no place in the debate on the peace treaty now pending. He also objected to the submission of the bar association's resolution on the same grounds.

Senator Kenyon gave notice he would read the editorial to the senate at the first opportunity and added: "No man has done a greater service to the country than Judge Landis has in the strike troubles in Chicago and in many other matters."

Amendment Would Lift Tax on Musical Records
Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Senator Calver of New York introduced in the senate today an amendment to the tax bill eliminating pianos and records for player pianos and phonographs from the 5 per cent tax which under the bill would apply to certain musical instruments. The section would still apply to organs other than pipe organs, player pianos, phonographs, and music boxes.

Several senators are preparing substitutes for the proposed amendment applying to distilled spirits.

It seems certain the amendment approved by the Republican members of the finance committee providing for a tax of $6.40 per proof gallon with a rebate of $4.20 if used for legitimate purposes will be rejected.

PARKER SAYS HE GOT ONLY $9,800 IN "CO-OP" DEALS

Describes Financing of Subsidiaries.

Attorneys delving into the stock selling machinery of the Cooperative Society of America, alleged bankrupt, and its affiliated and subsidiary companies made little headway yesterday.

A safety box, said to contain at least $1,000,000 in bonds as assets of the society, was reported found in New York at the Broadway Safety Deposit company. The box was registered under the name of Mrs. Edith S. Parker, treasurer of the Great Western Securities company, according to A. N. Hum, attorney, who said that a court order would be obtained to seize the bonds.

At 10 o'clock in the morning Federal Judge Evans announced that in his opinion the proceedings would move as efficiently under the direction of Referee in Bankruptcy Frank L. Wean as before the court. In pursuance of this ruling the inquiry was returned to the society's offices in the People's Life building.

Parker Explains Financing.
There Harrison Parker took the witness stand. He explained the financing of the defunct National Society of Fruitvoters during 1918, 1919, and 1920. He told of mortgaging his home, his furniture, and his wife's jewelry to keep the concern from going to the wall. Then, when bankruptcy came and reorganization was necessary, the society owed his wife more than $90,000 and a bank in Michigan more than $125,000, he said.

Says He Got Only $9,800.
He declared that since the organization of the Cooperative Society of America he has received through his association with the organization and its subsidiaries only $9,800. His wife, however, has been receiving some $570 weekly.

She is holding carnatie rock, from which radium is refined in minute quantities.

THERE will be $47,000 worth of radium on exhibit today at the National Exposition of Mines, which is being held at the Coliseum in connection with the annual convention of the American mining congress in the Congress hotel.

Miss Agness Marcussen was photographed holding the box containing the tube of radium, which is inclosed in silver, brass, and lead compartments. She is also holding a piece of carnatie rock. It takes 200 tons of this rock, 200 tons of chemicals, and about four and a half months of refining to obtain this $47,000 drop of the precious radium.

Lewis appeared yesterday for the first time as counsel for Mrs. Parker before Judge Evans and Referee Wean. Senator Lewis was retained by a telegram from Mrs. Parker from Toronto.

'CHARM SCHOOL' GIRLS TOLD TO CREATE STYLES

Suitors May Flatter, Not Mirrors, Teacher Says.

"Get before a long mirror and—be honest with yourself."

It was the opening of the "charm school" at the west side branch of the Young Women's Christian association, 101 South Ashland avenue, last night, and thus did Miss Helen A. Haselton, 3 East Ontario street, an artist and one of the instructors, advise the girls to start on their quest after that elusive power of allure.

The particular style or mode of the day has nothing to do with charm in dress," she said. "There is no style. Our particular style is what is most charming for us."

Go to Reliable Stores.
"Some women and girls think price is a measure of good clothes. It is not; it has nothing to do with it. The main thing is to go to the most reliable stores."

"Women should not have a number of dresses of the same type. They should get a few of the very best that money can buy, and aim always at distinctiveness. It is only by being distinctive that a woman may be charming in dress."

Beware the Soot.
"A tall, slender woman should always wear parallel lines, and a short, heavy one horizontal lines."

"If the length of the body is out of proportion to the legs, raise or lower the waist line to suit."

"And another thing, Chicago is a sooty, smoky city. Here we should

LOST—A SONG

MISS MAY HILL.
(TRIBUNE Photo.)

She writes songs and has filed suit against a Chicago publisher, charging infringement.

THEY absorb melodies, these aspiring composers, as a sponge sops up water. They wander into a cabaret or a music publisher's office, and presto! their subconscious selves grasp some composition that is being played. Then a few days later it pops into the conscious mind, they think they are inspired; they write down their inspiration and bing! we have an infringement.

So says Miss May Hill, composer of popular ballads, in connection with a suit for accounting and infringement filed for her in the United States District court by Attorney Fred Lowenthal, against Will Rossiter.

She charges that Rossiter's "Don't You Remember the Time" is an infringement on her own "Until I Say Good-Bye."

"The two songs are identical in the chorus—all except the last four measures," says Miss Hill. "But I don't blame Mr. Rossiter. He probably bought this song from some aspiring young composer who simply absorbed it and thought it was his own."

'VETERAN' AT 72; NEVER SAW WAR; GETS TRAINING

Case Causes Closing of Boston School.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Col. Charles R. Forbes, director of the United States veteran bureau, today fired another broadside at the present system of placement training of ex-service men when he announced that he had obtained evidence to show that some of these "mushroom" schools had submitted vouchers to the government for training services for men not in training.

One of the schools closed by Col. Forbes was the Berkeley pre-vocational school at Boston, where 500 students were enrolled, including William Blackburn of Lynn, Mass., aged 72, who since 1919 had succeeded in learning to write his name, somewhat unsteadily, at an expense to the government of more than $3,000.

Blackburn's record shows that he enlisted in the naval reserve in 1917 after forty years as a deep sea fisherman, and that he had been absent from training 75 per cent of the time in the last four months.

Several cases were found of men who were earning good incomes and at the same time drawing more than $100 a month from the government. In other cases men were attending only a few days in the month schools which were sending vouchers to the government for service never rendered.

The students taken from these schools ultimately will be placed in the technical training centers to be maintained by the government, Col. Forbes said.

Evidence gathered during his recent investigations is being prepared for submission to congress. It will be discussed in detail at the conferences with regional directors of the fourteen districts representing every state in the union, which opened this morning and will continue throughout the week.

Of the 6,000 men reported to have been rehabilitated, Col. Forbes does not believe that more than 5 per cent have been satisfactorily trained and established. There are 100,000 men now in training.

New Floors That Will Be a Revelation to You

VERY likely you have thought that linoleum could be used only as a floor-covering for kitchens, pantries, and bathrooms.

A good many people have had that idea, because they don't know about the new kind of linoleum, installed as a permanent floor in living-rooms, libraries, dining-rooms, sleeping porches, bedrooms—every room in the house.

You can see this modern linoleum by going into any good store and asking the salesman to show you Armstrong's Linoleum, in rich plain colors, delicate Jaspés (two-tone effects) and distinctive inlaid and printed designs.

When you look at these designs and colors, you will understand how the decorative scheme of a room or suite can be built up from a properly-selected floor of Armstrong's Linoleum. You will know why architects are specifying floors of Armstrong's Linoleum for handsome modern homes.

Floors of Armstrong's Linoleum are quiet and restful under foot. Linoleum needs only an occasional waxing and polishing, to keep it looking like new. No other floor is so easy to clean.

A good way to install Armstrong's Linoleum as a permanent floor is to cement it down firmly over a layer of deadening felt. Such a floor remains smooth, tight, and solid.

Any good department or furniture store will give you estimates of the cost of Armstrong's Linoleum floors, put down in your home. These floors are not expensive, and all Armstrong's Linoleum is guaranteed to give satisfaction.

FOUR MEN GO TO TRIAL AS SLAYERS OF 3 POLICEMEN

Four men, all charged with killing policemen, were placed on trial yesterday in Criminal court.

Hirsch Miller, former Municipal court bailiff, and reported go-between for several whisky rings, and Samuel J. "Nails" Morton, were placed on trial before Judge John R. Caverly charged with the murder of two policemen from the Cottage Grove avenue police station.

As attorneys were picking a jury, Judge Fitch began the trial of Arthur and Louis Benzling, charged with the murder of Policeman Joseph Kurtz.

Gerald A. Stack, wealthy real estate broker from Lander, Wyo., was to have gone on trial before Judge Michael L. McKinley for the killing of Paul Brown Williamson, a former marine who was shot a year ago last September in the Bungalow inn at Niles, but the case was continued until later this week.

In all three trials the defendants will plead self-defense. Former Judge George F. Barrett, counsel for Miller, spent most of his time yesterday, during which four jurors were selected, questioning witnesses on what they thought of the plea of self-defense.

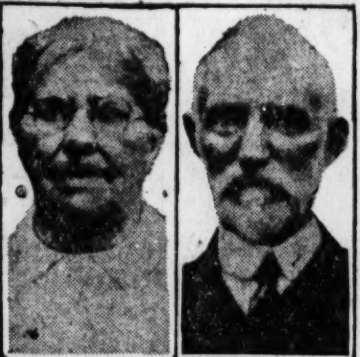

Beaux Arts Club Slaying.
Miller and Morton are charged with the killing of Policeman James McElahy and W. E. Hennessey last August during a quarrel at the Beaux Arts club in the Second ward. Assistant State's Attorney Stanley Klarkowski and George Crane are prosecuting. In the Benzling case Kurtz interfered in a quarrel between Arthur Benzling, a policeman, his brother, Louis, and a stranger.

Stack, after many delays was indicted on a charge of manslaughter. Robert E. Daniels, assistant state's attorney is in charge of the case.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 17.—Hugh Nichol, former chief justice of the Supreme court of Ohio, who is chairman of the committee arranging for the U. S. CHICAGO 5C FARE BEFORE HIGHEST COURT TODAY?

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—(Special.)—Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Ettelson of Chicago and C. E. Cleveland, special traction counsel, arrived in Washington today to participate in arguments on the Chicago 5 cent street car fare case before the Supreme court of the United States. The arguments probably will take place tomorrow.

The case is that involving the efforts of the city of Chicago to nullify the action of the Lowden public utilities commission of Illinois, in authorizing an increase in street car rates in Chicago from the former 5 cent fare. The Supreme court of Illinois upheld the right of the state commission to authorize the increased fares, and the present proceeding is on an appeal from the State Supreme court.

IF all Chicago fully realized the values we are offering down here during this special "Suit and Overcoat" Combination Sale, we couldn't begin to handle the crowds.

For stop and think! Consider what we mean when we say that we're selling clothes at "actual cost" during this special event.

We don't mean at "retailer's cost" or at "wholesaler's cost." We mean at actual "MAKER'S cost"—at what it costs us to produce the clothes here at our great manufacturing plant.

Sometimes a retailer—under severe pressure—sacrifices his clothing stock at his "cost price." But bear in mind that his "cost price" simply means the price he paid to a wholesaler—including a wholesaler's profit over which he has no control.

We're selling our clothes right where we make them—and there are no costs figured into our prices other than our own.

Hence in offering a "Suit and Overcoat" at our cost price, we're offering Chicago the greatest clothes-buying opportunity it has ever known.

—a chance to secure fine custom-tailored suits and overcoats [in combination] at maker's cost.

We're satisfied in keeping our shops humming at capacity—while doing our part to help Chicago stimulate a tidal wave of buying activity in all lines.

FOOD PRICES IN CHICAGO DECLINE 4% IN 30 DAYS

Fluctuations Are Noted in Commodity Groups.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

September registered little change in the general level of wholesale prices as compared with August. Taken as a whole, wholesale prices stand 52 per cent higher than in 1913, according to a report last night from the federal bureau of labor statistics.

Prices by commodity groups, however, fluctuated somewhat. They settled in the direction of a more stabilized level, which has been the tendency throughout the price adjustment period, but great variations still exist. To illustrate, farm products are only 22 per cent higher than in 1913, but building materials are still 93 per cent higher than in the pre-war year.

Farm Products Up 3 Per Cent.
During September, owing largely to the advance in raw cotton, farm products as a group went up about 3 per cent, as compared with August. Articles in the cloth and clothing group increased 4 1/2 per cent. A small increase was also shown in chemicals and drugs.

In other commodity groups, September wholesale prices ranged somewhat lower than in August, except in metals, where they remained the same. In foodstuffs the decline was 4 per cent. At retail, foodstuffs in a "weighted" workman's family budget decreased 1 per cent—in Chicago they dropped 3 per cent, so the report shows.

Fuel and lighting in September dropped 2 per cent in average price; building materials were 2 1/2 per cent cheaper, and house furnishings shaved off 3 per cent.

Heavy Declines in Year.
When September prices are compared with those of the same month in 1920, they indicate farm products have declined nearly 42 per cent; food, 34 per cent, and clothing, 33 per cent. Fuel and lighting and metal products have fallen 27 per cent in the year, building materials, 39 per cent, and chemicals, 27 per cent in average prices.

In the aggregate, all commodities decreased 37 per cent in the twelve months. The wholesale price level for September was 44 per cent lower than during the peak month of May, 1920.

Julius Pucowski reported to the police yesterday that his former friend, Alex Novak, and Pucowski's young son had disappeared, taking with them his life savings, $1,000.

CHAUFFEUR SEIZES FLEEING "DIP", HOLDS ON TILL POLICE COME

A gallant chauffeur, a mounted cop, and Miss Alberta Dodds of Winnetka captured a pick-pocket yesterday afternoon in the loop.

As Miss Dodds was passing an alley a man grabbed her purse and ran. She screamed for help. Morris Erickson, an employee of THE TRIBUNE, who was unloading his truck near, heard her cries. He jumped from his truck as the man came dashing down the alley. Close behind the fugitive was Mounted Policeman Albert Kalling.

Erickson grabbed the man by the neck and held him until the officer arrived. At the station he was identified as Joe Davis, a notorious pick-pocket. Miss Dodds recovered her purse, which contained $35.

MUST BASE RENT ON "FAIR RETURN ON INVESTMENT"

New York, Oct. 17.—[Special.]—The Appellate term of the Supreme court in Manhattan ruled today that rents must be based on a reasonable income on the landlord's investment.

The S. H. M. Hall Realty company, owner of the premises at 225 West 98th street, brought suit against Leon Sydney Moss, a tenant. Louis W. Stotesbury, counsel for the plaintiff, argued that the landlord was entitled to base his rentals upon what real estate experts declared was "the present market value" of the property.

Justice Charles L. Guy in the opinion which was handed down with the decision, said: "To permit this line of proof would justify extortion on the part of landlords by proof that the extortionate demands had resulted in an increase of market value for similar property. It was clearly the intent of the legislature that a landlord should be restricted to such rentals as would yield, not a reasonable income on values created by profiteering methods, but a reasonable income on his investment."

How do you get your tastes?

You buy the same newspaper day after day, patronize the same shoe store, and go to the same lunch place.

How do you get that way? How do you form these habits? How have you acquired the facts and impressions that make your individual tastes in friends, in foods, in amusements, in work?

The vast majority of these impressions came into you unfelt and unperceived, because the human senses must by the law of their existence lie open to impression.

You go through your whole life unconsciously receiving, classifying, and storing up these impressions. They become your background of personality, your fund of experience, your basis for opinions. Among them are stored away your unconsciously-formed estimates of advertised articles.

You buy the same thing over and over, first, because it is satisfactory, and, secondly, because you don't want the bother of looking up another.

This explains why advertising pays. Repeated advertisements put into thousands of people's minds the impression that a product is good, and habit keeps it there.

ONCE a month, or more frequently, we issue a publication called Batten's Wedge. Each issue is devoted to a single editorial on some phase of business. If you are a business executive and would like to receive copies, write us.

When Mr. Jones was saved from the frying pan—

They talk yet of the change that came over Jones. Some said it was psychology. Some said it was a miracle. All said it was a mystery.

When they asked Jones, he said it was liberation from slavery—slavery to the frying pan, and to grease and starch.

Jones used to take his breakfast fried, and followed this with a heavy lunch.

In those days they said at the office: "Old Jones has a secret sorrow and he's sore on the world."

One day Jones started late—no time for the usual breakfast to be cooked.

Jones had a breakfast on Grape-Nuts with good cream. He was delighted with the crispness and rich flavor. Felt satisfied and "fed." Tried it again at lunch. Kept on breakfasting that way—often lunching, too.

Jones began to "perk up," talk up, step up—GET up.

"Let Jones show you how to do this," they began to say at the office.

As to Jones—he said: "That's a great food—GRAPE-NUTS."

There are thousands of Joneses, both kinds—reckless feeders and wise feeders.

"There's a Reason" for Grape-Nuts

What the Public Ledger Has Done for Philadelphia

Q The PUBLIC LEDGER is the first newspaper in PHILADELPHIA to establish its own foreign news service—gleaning the events as they occur all over the world by crack-jack journalists of international reputation. Supplementing stars of the first magnitude in the newspaper field are men of the high order of Colonel House—there is none higher. These able men are active in London, Paris, Berlin, etc.

The PUBLIC LEDGER is the first newspaper in PHILADELPHIA to found a Far-Eastern News Service. Headquarters are in Tokio; feeding news centers are active in Pekin, Hong Kong, Shanghai and Manila. First-hand, authentic news cables are received right here in PHILADELPHIA as fast as the news can burn across the wires.

Q First—A strong word that “First,” and very powerfully true of the PUBLIC LEDGER in its relation to its home city. The PUBLIC LEDGER has given PHILADELPHIA enjoyable prestige as a very live, progressive news center—it has its own leased wires, and newspapers all over the United States look to the PUBLIC LEDGER (of PHILADELPHIA) for daily news service.

Q When the idea of putting PHILADELPHIA to the fore as a news center reached the ears of New York, they took it too lightly—dismissing the very thought with the bland statement that it couldn't be done. It HAS been done! The PUBLIC LEDGER successfully did it! And the PUBLIC LEDGER is not published in New York!!

Q Consider but a few of the world - foremost names that are exclusive PUBLIC LEDGER writers:

Viviani, ex-Premier of France, was offered all sorts of great inducements by other newspapers to join their standard. He tied up with the PUBLIC LEDGER on his own initiative, sheerly because all France hailed the PUBLIC LEDGER as the leading American newspaper.

Count Okuma, the revered master statesman of Japan, is on the PUBLIC LEDGER staff—the thought of Japan wants its best outlet through the best means obtainable — the PUBLIC LEDGER is so considered.

Wu Ting-Fang, perhaps China's greatest mind, gives the highest recognition to the worth of the PUBLIC LEDGER by joining its other stars.

Q That letter from Buenos Aires we published recently was clear as to the leadership of the PUBLIC LEDGER — and there are so many other similar letters from every corner of the globe

Q There's more to the published words of these great men in the PUBLIC LEDGER than the keen wizardry of super-brains—here in concise views are masterly interpretations of national movements as they affect and relate to our United States and the other Powers.

Q The Business Section has met with unusual success—perhaps because it is unusual—never before done by an American newspaper!—Business specialists such as Richard Spillane, B. C. Forbes, Evans of Chicago and Monitor of New York are authorities who regularly analyze national conditions in the comprehensive eight-page Business Section every day. The PUBLIC LEDGER more than leads as the business man's newspaper.

Look back to 1913, a short span of eight years—the Public Ledger printed but 60,000 papers and sold about 45,000 of them at one cent a copy. Today, 250,000 Public Ledgers are sold every day for two cents a copy. The advertising patronage has doubled and doubled again!

And all this has been done in Philadelphia—“It can't be done—in Philadelphia?” The Public Ledger has gone right ahead and done it.

It has been said that the Public Ledger is too good for Philadelphia—Philadelphians would not support it. Yet, Philadelphians have supported it, are right with the Public Ledger—for Philadelphia does appreciate enterprise.

IRISH MEETING ADJOURNS WITH PEACE NEARER

Ulster Is Chief Point of Discussion Now.

BY PEABODY SWIFT.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]
LONDON, Oct. 17.—The Irish conference got over its first critical day this afternoon without a shipwreck, and tonight the atmosphere is bright with peace. The conference sat two and a half hours and adjourned without fixing a date for reassembling because of a meeting of parliament tomorrow and the uncertainty of Prime Minister David Lloyd George's engagements.

It was arranged, however, that the conference be summoned to meet again on short notice as soon as parliamentary business allows. The usual secrecy is preserved, but it is understood the subject under discussion today was Ulster. Both parties came armed with large ordinance maps carefully colored to show the population of the various sections of Ulster with regard to religion and politics.

Duck Secession Issue.

It now is fairly sure every effort is going to be made to avoid a split on the subject of British sovereignty. The Irish are perfectly willing to work out an agreement on future relations placing Ireland in the position of a dominion and to waive the question of sovereignty if the British do not raise it. Their position is that both sides agree to recognize that the other has a point of view which it can not accept and let it go at that.

The more serious question is really Ulster, and the most depends on the Ulsterites themselves. Sir James Craig has been talking loudly of "no surrender," but he is coming to London in a few days.

Ready to Concede.
Sinn Fein is ready to give Craig anything he asks in the way of autonomy if he will recognize the essential unity of Ireland. He will be told that he can have far more autonomy under Dublin than under London, and, if he wants guarantees, they will give him all any one can demand.

Craig daily is awaiting a call to the London conference. His declaration that plans have been made for dealing with the equality of a Sinn Fein invasion of Ulster has been received with satisfaction by his adherents and is being followed by a demand for reorganization of the Ulster volunteer force.

HOLLAND AGREES TO TAKE PART IN DISARM PARLEY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—The Netherlands government today accepted the invitation of the United States to participate in discussion of Pacific and far eastern ques-

The acceptance said "the government of the queen associated itself very sincerely in the wish that the conference called by the happy initiative of the president would be the occasion to reach an understanding on the problems of the Pacific and the East and regulate these questions in a manner to encourage decided friendship between all of the nations concerned."

SAILS CASPIAN IN LIMPING GHOST OF BIG OIL NAVY

BY LARRY RUE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
 REYKJAVIK, Oct. 17.—(By the Chicago Tribune.)—The trip from Baku to Asaphan some years before on the same ship on which we intended to travel, and it was a wonderful voyage and about the only ship among the numerous docks, its presence adding to the impression of desolation.

Welcome from Captain.

An official accompanied us aboard to introduce us to the captain, Capt. John Harris, a grand old fellow, who had commanded the ship for twenty-five years, gave us a warm welcome and apologized in German for the lack of quarters, but said he would put a couple of us in his cabin, and the others could sleep in the chart room. When we had carried out baggage aboard darkness had completely enveloped the ship, which, with the exception of one or two members of the crew, who moved about like shadows, seemed devoid of human beings, outside of the captain and ourselves.

The captain, who in the old days had entertained many of the oil kings, urged by his traditional hospitality, invited us to supper. We went into a small smelly dining room.

The captain set five plates, one of them broken; five forks, three knives, a loaf of black bread, and four herring, a kettle of hot water which, with a quivering hand, he poured over millet seed, which served as tea.

Ship falling to pieces.

The boat itself was falling to pieces. It made five miles an hour, when before it easily knocked out twelve. However, after visiting several other ships during our trip we found that the Vodka-kivod was in relatively good condition.

Somehow linked with the desolate existence aboard this ship is the story of the island of Geioi, whose light-house, seventy miles from Baku, guides the Caspian mariners around the shoals. The light was intermittently blinking when we passed it, but a week before it had gone out for the first time in thirty years. Investigation showed that all the fourteen inhabitants who tended the light were dead of starvation, having been completely forgotten by the government.

TOKIO, Oct. 17.—Japan's reply to China's note regarding Shantung urges the Chinese to reconsider their refusal to negotiate, in view of the urgency of the matter and the necessity of not permitting the question to drag indefinitely. The Japanese note was sent to Peking last Saturday. The Chinese are asked to forget the recent wrangles and to consider the question in the light of Japan's desire to renew the old friendship.

WOOD SCOTCHES HARRISON RULE IN PHILIPPINES

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 17.—That the administration of justice in the Philippines is slow and unsatisfactory, that the judges are underpaid and that their number should be increased, was Gov. Gen. Leonard Wood's comment on the judiciary of the islands in his first message at the opening of the Philippine legislature today, which he read in person.

Referring to his recent visits to China and Japan, Gov. Gen. Wood said: "I am glad to inform you that I find in neighboring countries a very keen desire for closer and more extensive trade relations with the Philippines." Passing to financial conditions in the islands the governor general said that "a serious blow has been dealt at singular credit through incompetent management of the Philippine National bank. Responsibility for this rests in part on the Filipinos, but also on those Americans who placed untrained, incompetent men in charge of affairs with which they were unfamiliar. (Francis Burton Harrison was the Wilson governor general of the Philippines.) These losses have established a condition which necessitates economic and efficient administration of the finances of the islands."

MAROONS TO FACE ROUGHER SORT OF PLAYING IN EAST

TOO ROUGH; CANNED

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Ed McMullin today was ousted from the Penn varsity football squad by Coach Heisman for roughness in the Gettysburg and Swarthmore games. McMullin is an end.

"McMullin cost us the Swarthmore game," Coach Heisman said. "His slugging early in the first period resulted in a penalty which cost a touchdown. He was guilty of the same offense in the Gettysburg game and Penn lost fifteen yards due to it."

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
With Chicago meeting Princeton on the Tigers' gridiron, four undefeated western conference eleven in action, and important, struggled scheduled in the east, the football season will reach its climax Saturday, when a number of eleven will be dropped from the championship consideration.

While all these battles are being waged, interest will center around the intersectional struggle at Princeton. It will be the first time in years that the two sections have met with representative teams, and an interesting contest should result. The teams have been pointed to this game since the opening of the year, although the Tigers have not yet taken chances of having Lourie and Garrity out of the Maroon game.

Chicago will send east a team of unknown possibilities. The men looked good in the Northwestern game, but ragged against Purdue. Just what has been accomplished on the Midway in the last week, and what Coach Blagg has given his men in the way of plays, will only be known in Saturday's struggle. It is hard to conceive of Chicago making consistent headway through the Tiger line, and it looks as if the team will rely upon the forward pass for its gains.

Can Maroon Line Hold?
The big question—and a mighty important one—is whether the Maroons will be able to withstand the bruising play of this battle. The Tigers tackle viciously, the line charges in savage fashion, and the interference of the aggressive type seldom seen in the west. Catchers of punts will be thrown to the ground with resounding thuds, while the ball is clipped as long as the ball is in play. It will be a new type of game to the Midway players, and they must expect to be handled more roughly than they have been in the midwest.

Michigan, a strong contender for conference honors, will play its first Big Ten game with Ohio State at Ann Arbor. The Buckeye team, which won the Michigan game last Saturday, Coach Wilce is developing another strong eleven, but it is expected to meet its match Saturday. Coach Yost has men at Ann Arbor who can advance the ball, and he has a line which should give the ball carriers the necessary protection.

Yost Digests Buckeye Victory.
Yost saw Ohio in action last Saturday and his knowledge of their play should help in evolving a defense to stop the Buckeye's performance. The loser of this game will be dropped from the list of Big Ten championship possibilities.

Wisconsin, another unbeaten Big Ten eleven, will journey to Urbana to meet Illinois in the annual struggle. While the Badgers will enter the fray favorite, the Orange and Blue eleven is expected to recover from last Saturday's defeat by Iowa and give Coach Richards' eleven a battle.

Coach Jumbo Stuehm will take his Indiana eleven to Minneapolis to meet Minnesota in the annual encounter. Unless the coaches show a lot of improvement this week, the Hoosiers will win. Minnesota is slow this year and has not shown an offense that can make headway against a first class eleven. Indiana has a good attack and the team is strong defensively.

Nebraska at Notre Dame.
Iowa, a strong favorite for Big Ten honors, Purdue, and Northwestern have no games scheduled.

Outside of the conference, the game between Notre Dame and Nebraska on the former's gridiron is attracting much attention. Coach Rockne's eleven is bent on making amends for its defeat by Iowa, and the players are confident of winning the remaining games on the schedule. Notre Dame alumni living in Chicago will make the trip to South Bend on special trains.

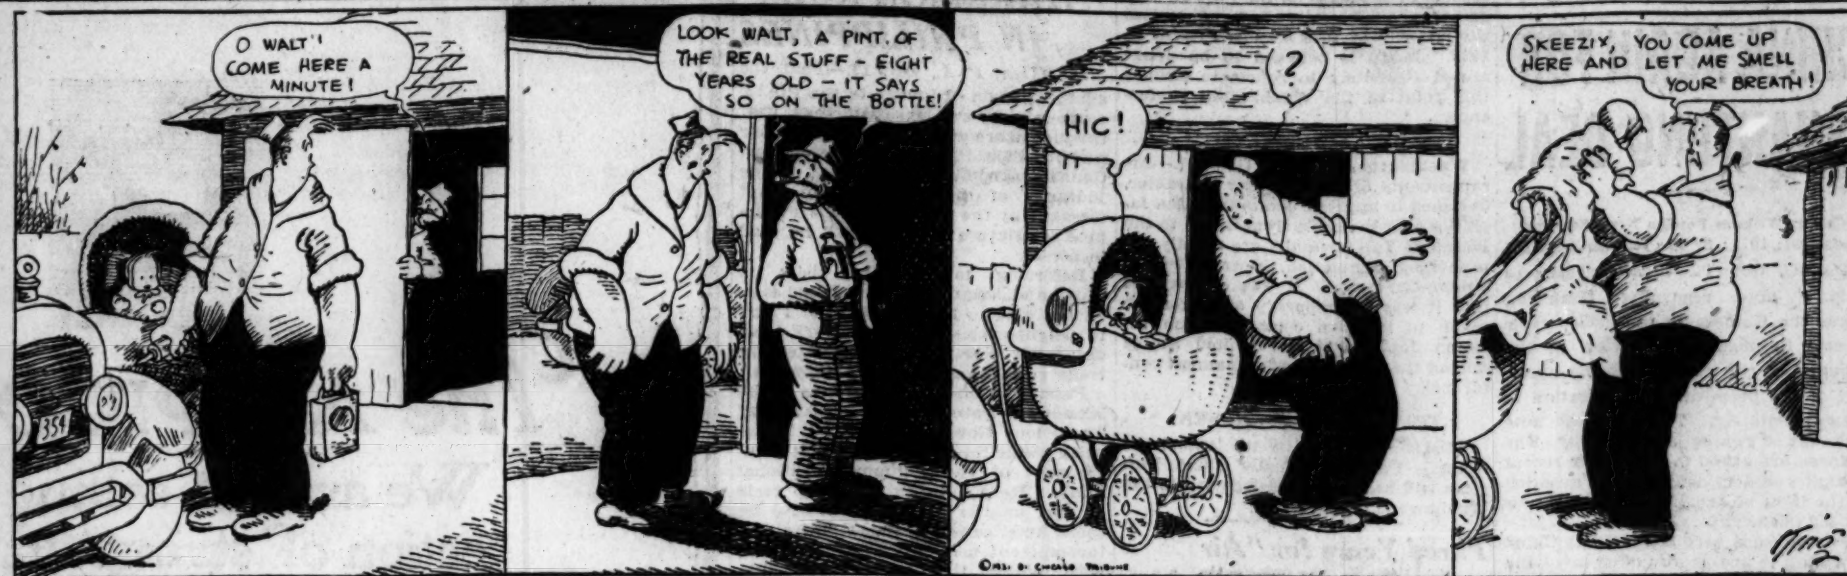

Aside from the Princeton-Chicago game in the east, there are a number of other important contests. The Army will travel to New Haven to meet Yale. Hugo Bendick will take his Penn State warriors to Cambridge to battle Harvard. Syracuse will meet Pittsburgh on the latter's gridiron, and Dartmouth will clash with Columbia on the former's field.

GASOLINE ALLEY—HAS AVERY BEEN TREATING?

Augustana to Be Reckoned With in Collegiate Grid Race

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.
Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—One football team to be reckoned with in setting the battle for the championship of the "Little Nineteen" conference this fall is Augustana, a college situated on the hills of this city and overlooking the Father of Waters.

The boys of this school asserted themselves in a manner quite convincing a year ago, and now indications are they have advanced another step, sure to make them contenders for the title.

Football was revived here four years ago, after a long lapse, when there was nothing but interclass contests. Quarter back, Lourie, or Half back, Garrity, against the midshipmen. These sterling players were slightly bruised in earlier contests, and the Tiger mentor apparently preferred to lose to the Navy rather than take chances of having Lourie and Garrity out of the Maroon game.

Chicago will send east a team of unknown possibilities. The men looked good in the Northwestern game, but ragged against Purdue. Just what has been accomplished on the Midway in the last week, and what Coach Blagg has given his men in the way of plays, will only be known in Saturday's struggle. MAROON FROSH SHOW TEAM ROPER'S PLAYS

Employing plays used by Princeton last Saturday against Annapolis, the University of Chicago freshman team played a game of football against the Maroon Frosh team yesterday. The game was played at the University of Chicago, and the Maroon Frosh team was defeated by the Princeton team.

Chicago will send east a team of unknown possibilities. The men looked good in the Northwestern game, but ragged against Purdue. Just what has been accomplished on the Midway in the last week, and what Coach Blagg has given his men in the way of plays, will only be known in Saturday's struggle. At Football Camps

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—With the Ohio State clash slated for the end of the week, Coach Blagg, who is in charge of the Maroon Frosh team, is expected to be in shape for the Buckeye game. The injuries were received in the game, Roby, Capt. Dunne, and Sketee are not in good shape, and Coach Yost will be forced to employ many substitutes against the Buckeyes.

Yost announced, upon his return from the Ohio State, that the Buckeyes have one of the strongest teams in years, and Michigan's chances have been dealt a severe blow by the loss of so many regulars. Yost said Michigan could hardly be expected to win Saturday with so many men on the hospital list.

Minnesota.
Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—It will be a different Minnesota football team that will play Saturday at Chicago. The Gopher coach today started a number of changes in his lineup. The lineup from full back to right end, and shot Cole, a substitute, to left end. McCarty, a good line plunger, was back at his old position at full. Earl Martineau was given a rest and O'Connell filled in. A replacement of changes in the lineup. He moved back to replace O'Connell in the coming game. It is possible the coach will swap his entire eleven in an effort to get it back into a winning stride.

Illinois.
Urbana, Ill., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Bob Zupke went to work tonight to rally the broken Illinois for the battle against Wisconsin Saturday. The little coach gave indications of radical changes in the lineup. Al Mohr went back to guard, although he will be called upon to punt. Bauer is a likely bet to replace Reiche at the other guard berth. Bauer, a late entry against Iowa, showed well enough to win him a permanent job if he can keep up the gain. Woodward and Dawson will probably be the new right half backs, and Don Peden will be left half if he is well enough. Jack Strangle will lay off all week.

Ohio State.
Columbus, O., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Coming through the Minnesota game with but few casualties, Ohio State spent this afternoon in a short drill and a still shorter scrimmage. Few plays were tried, most emphasis being placed on the plays which had not worked smoothly in Saturday's game. Blair, who was declared by the doctors to be out until the last of the season, with his wrenched leg, appeared in a suit. Ott ran the team most of the time, and Stuart did the punting, due to a sore arm which Coach Rockne received in the Minnesota game.

Iowa.
Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—On a rain soaked field tonight Coach Jones gave his men a light drill. Nobody was hurt in the Illinois game, which called for a substitution, and the team is in good physical shape. Saturday will be an open date.

Notre Dame.
Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Reports regarding the strength of Nebraska have aroused Notre Dame into action tonight. Coach Rockne devoted his attention tonight to improving his offense, which was sluggish at Purdue. Nebraska is credited with a well balanced attack and backs its play with an average weight of 190 pounds. Notre Dame will stack an average of 180 against the Cornhuskers, and Rockne is preparing to combat the beef with brains. The game will mark the second annual homecoming celebration at Notre Dame and more than 15,000 are expected.

LOURIE AND GARRITY BACK IN TIGER SUITS

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Princeton's football team began its tentative practice for the Chicago game today, with a workout harder than the usual Monday program. Not a single injury was received in the Navy game and the entire squad was in uniform today.

Don Lourie, Hank Garrity, and Whoops Snively were on the field, but did little real work. It is not known whether these three will be able to play against the Maroons, but the battle with the Mid-dies showed that they are badly needed.

Lourie's heady play at quarter back and his wonderful open field running have for two years been features of the Tigers' game, and his absence has only helped to emphasize his services. The Peru, Ill., boy was in civilian clothes on the side lines at Annapolis Saturday.

Old Nassau is expecting a terrific contest with the western eleven, and the defeat at the hands of Annapolis had only made the incentive stronger.

Roper Promises Different Team.
"While I regret more than I can express, the Navy victory on Saturday," said Head Coach Bill Roper, "it will prove a blessing in disguise. The Mid-dies clearly outplayed Princeton and deserved to win. But don't think we are downhearted and discouraged. We have a fighting team and will recover from the setback. Chicago is going to be met Saturday, and they have a good team, a team that will put up a good game. It will be a different Princeton team that faces them."

Niles, brokers and widely known tennis players, with larceny of stocks valued at $12,000 from Emma S. Butttrick. After examination of evidence Mr. Pelletier said nothing had been found to associate the two with the alleged larceny.

LANDIS TO LET GRAVITATION ATTEND TO RUTH

Mr. George "Babe" Ruth still is the king of baseball—at least in his own estimation. Judge K. M. Landis, supreme baseball arbiter, returned from New York yesterday, but said no immediate action would be taken in the case of the Yankee slugger who defied the rules and repeated warnings by engaging in an exhibition game at Buffalo on Sunday and in another at Elmira, N. Y., yesterday.

Landis had other important matters to attend to before the Ruth case, but he did slip a few words indicating that the home run specialist soon will be dealt with. The code of organized baseball was written with a purpose and can be enforced.

"What Goes Up Must Come Down." The general impression is that Ruth will be let off with nothing less than suspension for a few weeks. The suspension of some of next season's games without pay. To bar him throughout the season would work too great an injustice on the owners of the Yankees, who did what they could to keep him out of the present unpleasantness by paying Babe against rousing the ire of the commissioner.

The law of gravitation still is in force, "Babe" Landis' reply to a question regarding the case. "What goes up must come down. In the meantime law abiding baseball players need have no fear that the law will not be enforced."

Statement in Few Days. The judge added that he would show in a statement, to be issued within a few days, "what sort of a gentleman" Ruth was. This was taken to be a reference to Ruth's assertion that he had attempted to phone Landis in New York and that the judge had hung up the receiver on him.

Landis pointed out that the rule against world's series players participating in games prior to the next regular season was not made by him, but was part of the agreement between the American and National leagues. He brought with him several papers relating to the case and will study them before giving his decision.

YANK OWNERS BACK LANDIS. New York, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—Babe Ruth is not going to have the support of the owners of the Yankees in his fight with Commissioner Landis over the anti-barnstorming rule. Jacob Ruppert and T. L. Huston, owners of the Yankees, tonight gave out a statement admitting the necessity of "firm action" by Judge Landis. The Ruppert-Huston statement says:

"It is regrettable that the rule prohibiting members of world series teams from playing exhibition games has been violated so defiantly by some of the Yankee players. Judge Landis has been forced to take action. The situation is a difficult one. The rule is a rule. The renewed slugging is believed to be receiving for his present trip through the timbers, which lasts about a fortnight, the sum of $25,000. In a series of exhibition contests last winter in Cuba Babe drew remuneration at the rate of $1,500 a game."

STONEHAM'S NAGS RACE TO VICTORY

New York, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—The great favorite that smiled on Charles A. Stoneham in the recent world series beamed on him again at the opening of the meeting at Empire City today. The owner of the Giants baseball team scored a double racing triumph, one of the victories coming in the $4,000 Scaresdale handicap at a mile, which was won by his 4-year-old gelding, Yellow Hawk. This good handi-capped performer defeated the Rancocas stable's Thunderbolt, who had been beaten by the stable of the Xalapa farm was third in a field of six.

The other victory for the Stonehams was gained by Dry Moon, which defeated Dominions and others in a thrilling finish in the third race.

Glassman made a hurried trip to New York today for a chat with Tex Rickard and he posted a certified check of $5,000 with the big promoter to bind a match with the lightweight champion of the west Tender whips Rocky Lyons. "THE KING CAN DO NO WRONG" BLUE NOSE IS WINNER; TO RACE ELSIE OF U. S.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 17.—The Canadian challenger for the international fishing vessel trophy in the races against the Gloucester, Mass., schooner Elsie, beginning next Saturday, was determined today when the Lunenburg schooner Blue Nose won the second elimination test off this port. At the same time the Blue Nose won the Canadian fishermen's championship and first prize of $1,000.

As the Lunenburg boat also won the first trial race last Saturday it finished with a perfect score of 16 points. The Delaware, from which the Gloucester, Mass., schooner Elsie, was determined today when the Lunenburg schooner Blue Nose won the second elimination test off this port. At the same time the Blue Nose won the Canadian fishermen's championship and first prize of $1,000.

Independence Is Third. Independence finished third, Una R. Corkum fourth, Alicia fifth, Donald J. Cook, which had led across the starting line, sixth; Canada, seventh, and J. Duffy last. In the point score for the two races Alicia and Independence had 10 each, Canada 9, Corkum 7, and Duffy 2.

The Blue Nose, designed by W. J. Rouse of Halifax, was built for the express purpose of trying to win the right to compete in the international event.

To Overhaul Blue Nose. Blue Nose will go on the slip tomorrow or Wednesday for a thorough overhauling. Then it will have one or two trials to make sure it is in perfect condition.

WOODS AND WATERS. BOB BECKER. NOTES BY THE WAY. NOT much doing in the duck shooting business right now. Gunners are getting some mudhens in the lotus beds at Grass Lake, but ducks are scarce. Too much south wind is the trouble. No birds have been coming in during the last few days and we needn't expect any as long as this perfect autumn weather prevails. We saw a few ruddy ducks on Fox Lake, but the flocks were small. Poking through the lotus beds in Grass Lake is the stunt to work just now if you want to get some shooting at mudhens.

Jacksnipe are plentiful and good bags have been made on these birds during the last few days. Ray Franzger Jr. on Grass Lake brought in an even dozen a couple of days ago. The heavy rain last week sure did help the jack snooting, as there are many marshy spots for these long-billed fellows to pick around in. Another recipe for cooking mudhens. This time it's "pot roasted mudhen," and Dr. Hecht says it is a Jim dandy. The recipe is as follows: "Use the breast and legs of the bird, remove all the fat and soak overnight in strong salt water. In the morning parboil for three minutes, pour off water and repeat. Then dip in flour and fry until brown in bacon drippings or butter, cover with water, add a half teaspoonful of black pepper, one-half teaspoonful of cloves, a few stalks of celery, one tomato, a few onions, and let cook in an iron covered kettle for three to four hours."

THORNDALES VS. ST. JOHN'S SUNDAY. The only championship baseball game for next Sunday will be that between Thorndales and St. John's in the Switzer cup and Luck uniform series. It will be played at Muriel park in the morning.

CHAMP DEMPSEY SHOWS HIS SPEED IN LOCAL ARENA

Decisions of Tribune boxing representatives are: At Philadelphia — Soller Freedman beat Mickey Donley (8). Joe Donnelly beat Harry Adair (8). At Memphis—Freddy Kaler beat Zulu Kid (8). At Cincinnati—Speedy Sparks beat Toledo Kaysa Brown (10). Joe Price beat Pat Walsh (10).

Jack Dempsey, who is spending a few days in Chicago before going to Minneapolis to open a twenty weeks theatrical engagement at the Minneapolis arena, took a long workout at the Arcade gymnasium yesterday.

One of the amusing features of his training was a three round boxing bout with Morton Marks, a gym pupil who weighs 65 pounds. The champion permitted the little fellow to sock punches around the mid section.

Wins in Handball Game. The champion went through the usual routine gym work and finished with a game of handball against Johnny Meyers, middleweight wrestling champion. Dempsey was the victor after a hot match, 21 to 19. Jack will take another workout at the same place today.

Manager Jack Kearns asserted there was nothing new in the way of fights. He said Tom Gibbons or Harry Greb can have a match any time suitable inducements are offered.

Pal Moore, local bantamweight, and Frankie Masco of Port Wayne, Ind., yesterday were matched to box ten rounds aboard the U. S. S. Commodore on Oct. 24. The match was made by Phil Collins, and the weight will be 117 pounds at 3 o'clock on the day of the contest.

Frankie Schaeffer and Kid Wagner, who meet in the main event of Jim Mullen's boxing show in the Aurora armory on Oct. 24, have resumed training at local gymnasiums. The feature bout will be supported by five other contests.

Jimmy Nikol, west side welterweight, who will meet Dennis O'Keefe of South Chicago on the Commodore Friday night, is working at Peretti's gym. Nikol has sold over 500 tickets to his west side friends, and a large delegation from South Chicago will be aboard the boat when the fighters enter the ring.

Bob Roper has settled down to active training for a number of fights. On Oct. 31 he will meet Harry Foley at Memphis and has a tentative engagement with Hugh Walker at Tulsa, Okla. He is also wanted in Buffalo and Rochester. Sammy Mandel, Rockford bantamweight, and Jack Ellis will meet in a ten round bout before a suburban club Nov. 3.

GEORGES COMING TO U. S. FOR BOUT

New York, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—Tex Rickard received a letter this afternoon from Georges Carpentier, in which the French champion announced he had started light training for his bout with George Cook of Australia in London on Dec. 2.

The Frenchman declared his right hand, injured in the bout with Jack Dempsey at Jersey City last July, was fully recovered. Incidentally Georges informed Rickard that immediately following the bout with Cook he would repair to France and make all arrangements for returning to his country early in January.

Rickard also received word from Charles Loust, manager of George Cook, in which he asks that Rickard provide him with some matches in the event that he wins or gets a draw with Carpentier.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

RUTH VS. JUDGE LANDIS. BABE RUTH, greatest drawing card in the history of baseball—whose name, in our opinion, is worth at least $500,000 a season through the lure to the American league—has defied a rule of baseball and the edict of Judge Landis, baseball commissioner, that he shall not indulge in barnstorming exhibitions.

The issue is clear cut. Judge Landis forbids Ruth to play under penalty. Ruth played. We have no idea Judge Landis will not impose a penalty. A fine of less than the amount Ruth receives for his work would be a joke. Suspension for next season, or part of the season, may be expected.

Suspension of Ruth for any part of the season may be expected. The playing season will be a financial loss to all American league clubs meeting the Yankees. It will seriously impair the playing strength of the champions. Ruth will receive that publicity which always is on the side of the ball player as against centralized authority.

The magnates who borrowed Judge Landis' name for $45,500 a year to restore confidence in the national game, besmirched by the world's series of 1919, support their commissioner as cordially as they have promised, or will they criticize and seek to undermine, as they did the old national commission when it ruled for justice rather than expediency? This is the first major test since the selection of Judge Landis as baseball's supreme authority.

Dempsey and Willard. Jess Willard apparently is set as the next opponent for Jack Dempsey, despite the quickly ended bout at Toledo. Harry Wills is a more logical opponent, but there seems no public demand for such a meeting.

It Dempsey should draw the "color line," technically he would be white heavyweight champion of the world, but we doubt whether public opinion would force this differentiation. There is no insistence on mixed bouts. The memory of Jack Johnson, with his unfragrant episodes outside the ring, is too recent.

We do not even suggest a battle between Dempsey and Wills. But—wonder whether Jack would take Wills as he has all his white opponents.

GIBBONS-O'DOWD BOUT FOR TULSA

Wichita, Kan., Oct. 17.—Mickey Gibbons and Mike O'Dowd, middleweight boxers, will not appear here tomorrow night in their scheduled fifteen round bout. That was decided this afternoon when District Judge Jesse P. Ward held that the scheduled bout would be a violation of the state boxing law and ruled that it could not be held.

Both O'Dowd and Gibbons, together with their managers, trainers, and camp followers, will leave tomorrow for Tulsa, Okla., where the bout will be staged a week from tomorrow night.

Before the case was called in court today the boxers and all promoters connected in any way with the scheduled match were arrested, charged with aiding and abetting the preparations for the fight. Ward, former heavyweight champion, who was to have been referee, was one of those arrested. All were released on small bonds.

FREEDMAN BEATS MICKEY DONLEY

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 17.—(Special.)—Salior Freedman of Chicago defeated Mickey Donley of Newark in eight slow rounds at the Olympia club tonight. Donley put up a weak exhibition, and as Freedman rarely made an earnest attempt to fight, the big crowd roared its disapproval and near the finish polted the boxers with balls of crumpled up newspapers. Donley appeared to be afraid of his opponent.

Greenleaf Takes Opening Game in Cue Tournament

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 17.—Ralph Greenleaf of New York, titleholder, defeated Michael Kovach, Trenton, N. J., tonight in the opening match of the National Pocket Billiard tournament, 125 points to 34. Greenleaf went out with an unfinished run of 42. Jerome Keogh, Rochester, N. Y., defeated William F. Charlie Chaplin Plans to Desert Comedies Soon

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Charlie Chaplin is back home again with a new idea for foreign travel. The English young ladies, he finds, are "more subtle," the French are "more obvious."

The second idea Charlie brings back has been budding in his mind for some time. It is that he is going to desert comedy. Charles has been hinting at this desertion for some time. But now he comes right out and says he is determined to realize his life's ambition—to do a real drama. Before he gets to that, he admits, he will turn out two more comedies just to close the series.

"The best time I had," he said, "was a week-end with H. G. Wells, and that reminds me, I'm going to do Mr. Wells' 'The History of Mr. Polly' as one of my earliest productions."

COOK COUNTY TO ASK SHOWDOWN ON LEGISLATORS

Drive On for Senatorial Reapportionment.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Glaring inequalities in the population of the fifty-one senatorial districts, as shown by the completed totals of the 1920 census, will be the basis for re-apportionment in January for a "square deal" for Cook county, and for determined effort in the 1923 legislature for a senatorial reapportionment.

There has been no legislative redistricting of Illinois since 1901—twenty years ago—and the downstate has been losing population while Chicago and the metropolitan district have been doubling in size.

Two Districts Compared. As matters now stand, the Mattoon district, as an example, elects a state senator and three representatives. The Seventh senatorial district, which comprises only the smaller "country towns" of Cook county, has a population three times that of the Mattoon district, but also elects just one state senator and three representatives.

Final census figures establish the population ratio for each of the fifty-one senatorial districts at 127,159. Only five of the thirty-two downstate districts equal or exceed that ratio. The average population of the thirty-two downstate districts is 107,253; the average of the nineteen Cook county districts is 160,685.

Under a "square deal" reapportionment, based upon actual population, Cook county would be entitled to twenty-four districts instead of nineteen, and the downstate to twenty-seven instead of thirty-two.

How Cook County Stands.

The population of Cook county under the 1920 figures is fixed at 2,853,017. The population of the city of Chicago alone is 701,705, which leaves 361,312 as the population of the country towns outside Chicago and within Cook county. The average population of each of the nineteen districts within Cook county therefore stands at 160,685.

Of the country towns Evanston, Cicero, Oak Park, Berwyn, and Riverside are connected with city wards in making senatorial districts under the 1901 apportionment. The population of these five country towns is 138,769. The average population of the eighteen "city" districts, including the five country towns mentioned, is 157,748.

U. S. Bankers to Finance $50,000,000 Cuban Loan

New York, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—Arrangements are nearing completion for the loan by an American banking group of from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 to the republic of Cuba. The group will be headed by J. P. Morgan & Co. Two formal permissions must be obtained. One is the permission of the state department, which already has unofficially announced that it favors such a loan. The other is the permission of the Cuban congress, where more difficulty may be encountered.

The loan will run for thirty to forty years, probably the longer maturity, and probably will be a 7 per cent issue. It is proposed to form a corporation in Cuba which will resemble the War Finance corporation of the United States, and through the credit extended this corporation, which will receive the proceeds of the proposed loan, the planters will be aided each through his individual bank.

Brief Answers.

Pioneers of Progress

A CENTURY ago the little village of Chicago was an outpost of civilization on the western frontier—an outpost which the Pioneers in their prairie schooners passed on their way to the trackless regions still further west.

Today Chicago is the metropolis of the middle-west and one of the greatest cities in the world.

While Chicago pioneered its way to dominance and success, Chicago men and Chicago business institutions were likewise establishing their leadership.

Among these business pioneers was S. W. STRAUS & CO. Starting from a small beginning 39 years ago, this House has become today a dominating nation-wide institution, with offices in fifteen principal cities, doing by far the largest volume of business in first mortgage real estate bonds in the United States.

In every state in the Union you will find investors who know Chicago as the home of S. W. STRAUS & CO. and who look to this city and this House as the home of safe investment.

Every investor who is interested in the safe investment of any sum from $100 upward should write for our Booklet L-815.

The Municipal bonds we offer are payable out of taxes. Laws govern such taxes and the issuance of Municipal bonds. Varying laws and the varying resources of municipalities give different degrees of worth to municipal bonds. There are some municipal bonds the Federal Securities Corporation will not handle nor offer to its customers. A complete knowledge of laws and conditions is necessary in an accurate judgment of security and value.

The bond man of the Federal Securities Corporation is first schooled in the basic principles of security and value in municipal bonds. Daily by instruction and experience he adds to his knowledge. Call on him.

A Comprehensive Manual of Short-Term Securities

Arranged according to maturity dates

THE great number of short-term securities outstanding makes it possible for the investor to select issues maturing in any year, often in any month, which he may choose. He requires, however, comprehensive information which will show maturity dates over a considerable period, and which will also indicate the character of the various issues.

We have just published the Eleventh Annual Edition of our Manual of Short-Term Securities, arranged in the order of their maturity, which ranges from one month to twenty-five years. A description of each issue is given, together with an alphabetical index. These securities include notes and bonds of the United States Government, foreign governments, railroad and industrial corporations. They are suitable for the employment of surplus funds of banking institutions, corporations and individual investors.

The public turned to us for assistance in building and we offered our first mortgage issues.

Forty years of proved safety to investors have followed. "Cochran & McCluer Bonds are Sure" is a truth that is recognized today by thousands.

"Ma-ma, what is in that great big dish?"

"That, son-ny, is a bowl of Thompson's delicious oys-ter stew—made with rich milk and fresh, fat, ten-der oys-ters."

"Are those the oys-ters swim-ming a-round in the bowl, Ma-ma? How hap-py they look!"

"Yes, my son, those are the oys-ters."

"Aren't there a lot of them, Ma-ma! Do you get that man-y in an oys-ter stew?"

"Like ev-er-y-thing else in a Thompson Pure Food Res-tau-rant, you get a lot for a lit-tle mon-ey. Re-mem-ber this, son-ny, when you want some-thing to eat a-way from home, I will feel per-fect-ly safe if you will al-ways
